General Educational Aims and Policy

Suitable Repertoire Careful Tuning Fine Musicianship Beautiful Tone Vital Performance

Genre

An opportunity exists for young instrumentalists to learn to direct their own performances in the best possible way. They will have to gain control over their natural nervousness and mentally prepare themselves to do justice to the hours of preparation required. For effect, they will need to pay special attention to the production of good tone and technique and to the control of dynamics to give an effective and vital performance

- Students need to know how to commence the piece with an accompanist.
- Students need to know how to play using correct posture.
- Students need to know how to give due credit to the accompanist.
- Students need to know how to acknowledge the audience.
- Articulation needs to be thought through and adapted if necessary in order to support the musical phrases.
- The instrumentalist(s) needs to observe expression and other performance markings.
